The flames, fanned by a heavy gale, swept an area of 100 acres clean within two hours and destroyed the homes of 100 American residents and 1,000 natives.

The native refugees are now sheltered in the schools and other public buildings, while many are camping in open spaces.

The damage is conservatively estimated at $300,000 in gold. No casualties are reported.

The districts of Singalong, Paco and Banbang lie to the east of the walled city of Manila and just beyond the residential districts of Malate and Ermita, which face the bay. Nearly all two of the native houses in the fire-swept district are nips buts of comparatively
